It is a common mistake to think that the only way to avoid the problems of the first two methods is to use a third method, the "method of the first two methods". This method involves using the first two methods to find the value of the function at the endpoints of the interval, and then using the average of these two values as the estimate of the function at the midpoint. This method is also flawed, as it can lead to significant errors in the estimate of the function at the midpoint.
